

24.05.2017

Launch of GEF Internship Programme

The Greek Energy Forum (“GEF”) is delighted to announce the launch of the Internships Programme and would like to invite students and recent graduates to submit their CVs as a range of internships across Europe will be soon available in our partner companies as well as within GEF.

About GEF

GEF is an exclusive group of energy professionals sharing common interest in the broader energy industry in Greece and South-eastern Europe. The main objective of the Greek Energy Forum is to establish a platform upon which energy professionals can have the ability to network, share ideas and benchmark best practices on current industry developments and market trends in Greece and South-eastern Europe.

Please visit our website at www.greekenergyforum.com for more information.

Qualifications

We are looking for candidates with a strong interest in the field of energy (oil and gas/power markets/renewables/energy sustainability/policy) that come from various disciplines including Energy, Politics, Finance, Economics, Shipping, Engineering, Marketing and Social Media.

Excellent verbal and written communication skills in English are required (Greek would be a benefit).

No prior experience necessary.

How it will work

GEF has a broad network of partner companies in the energy and shipping sectors that are interested in using the forum to source interns. GEF will maintain a centralised pool of CVs and upon the availability of positions will contact the candidates.

The publication of the available positions in social media will depend on the company’s policy; thus, we highly recommend that the candidates submit their CVs. The CVs will not be public and companies will not have access to them without the candidates’ permission.

The internships offered will be 3 to 6 months and on a flexible basis (local/long-distance basis, part-time/full-time), so we invite students and graduates across Europe to submit their interest.

How to apply

Please send your CV and cover letter to info@greekenergyforum.com quoting “Internship Programme - CV” on the subject, and include your availability to start, current location and flexibility to travel and preferred type of employment (part-time/full-time).